FRESH AS AMENDED MOTION OF THE COURT APPOINTED REPRESENTATIVES
OF CLASS MEMBERS FOR AN ORDER AUTHORIZING
THE FILING OF ADDITIONAL/LATE CLAIMS
(Sections 10 and 19 of the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-36)

TO THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE GAÉTAN DUMAS J.S.C. OF THE SUPERIOR COURT, SITTING IN COMMERCIAL DIVISION, IN AND FOR THE DISTRICT OF SAINT-
FRANÇOIS, THE PETITIONERS RESPECTFULLY SUBMITS AS FOLLOWS:

A. OVERVIEW

1. On March 31, 2014, this Court rendered judgment granting a motion by Montreal, Maine & Atlantic Canada Co. (“MM&A” or “Debtor”) for an order approving a process to solicit claims and requiring claims to be filed by June 13, 2014, unless otherwise authorized by this Court (the “Claims Process”).
2. On April 4, 2014, the Honourable Mr. Justice Gaétan Dumas J.S.C. made the following orders:
 - a. an order requiring claims to be filed by June 13, 2014, unless otherwise authorized by this Court (the “Claims Process Order”).
 - b. an order appointing the Petitioners and their counsel as representatives (the “Class Representatives”) in these proceedings of Class Members (as defined in the Representation Order) [the “Representation Order”].
3. The Claims Process Order established June 13, 2014 as a claims bar date, but contemplates that this Court maintains jurisdiction over the process as a whole.
4. The Representation Order appointed the Class Representatives as representatives of the Class Members (as defined in Appendix “A” attached to the Representation Order) which, among other things, authorized the Class Representatives to:
 - a. assist Class Members and their representatives with the completion of their individual proof of claim;
 - b. deal, on behalf of the Class Members, with any government ministry, department or agency;
 - c. file such proof of claim (in addition to the representative claim on behalf of wrongful death victims) as may be permitted by further order of the Court; and,
 - d. seek advice and direction of the Court in respect of the discharge of their powers, responsibilities and duties.
5. The Class Representatives now seek an order:
 - a. authorizing the filing of certain additional claims described in Exhibit R-1 to this motion (the “June 2014 Claims”), and
 - b. advice and direction of the Court in respect of the treatment of the claims described in Exhibit R-2 to this Motion (the “January 2015 Claims” and the “April 2015 Claims”) [collectively with the June 2014 Claims, the “Additional Claims”].

B. ORDER SOUGHT

6. The Class Representatives ask this Honourable Court to:
 - a. authorize the filing of the June 2014 Claims;
 - b. provide advice and direction in respect of the treatment of the January 2015 Claims and April 2015 Claims which may include a direction that Class Counsel should bring a separate motion in respect of some of the Additional Claims particularizing the circumstances of the claimant and the specific reason(s) why, including any extenuating or extraordinary circumstances, each claimant failed to file their claim prior to the claims bar date.

C. GROUNDS FOR THIS MOTION

7. It is well established that a CCAA court is entitled to exercise its discretion to authorize claims filed after the claims bar date, provided it is in the interest of overall fairness and the underlying purpose of the CCAA.
8. It is common in proceedings of this nature, where there are diffuse claims and recovery is perceived to be unlikely because there is little or no money available for claims, for some creditors not to file claims.
9. Class Representatives undertook extensive efforts to reach the public at large prior to the expiry of the claims bar date. In particular:
 - a. A mailing was sent to 3,000 addresses in the city of Lac-Mégantic and surrounding villages regarding the Claims Process, including advice as to the claims bar date;
 - b. In addition to local counsel, four (4) individuals were hired on a full-time basis to provide information and assistance to the local population in filling out claims forms;
 - c. A website was established to provide information and an online version of the claims forms;
 - d. On April 22, 2014, the Court Appointed Representatives' counsel, Me Daniel Larochelle, Me Joel Rochon, and Me Jeff Orenstein conducted a press conference attended by RDI, TVA, La Tribune, Journal MRG, Journal L'Echo de Frontenac, Radio-Canada and CTV Montreal, where they detailed the Claims Process;
 - e. The Claims Process was detailed on the Facebook page of the Lac-Mégantic class action;
 - f. Families of known deceased persons were notified;

- g. Calls were made offering information and support to businesspersons, property owners, and commercial and residential tenants in the “zone rouge”;
 - h. A meeting was held on May 15, 2014 with local businesspersons and the Monitor;
 - i. An informational advertisement was on local television between April 28 and June 13, 2014;
 - j. A mailing was sent to owners of residential and commercial properties in the “zone rouge” between May 8 and 15, 2014;
 - k. The claims process in general received extensive local and regional newspaper coverage.
10. The result of these efforts was extremely positive: approximately 3,800 claims were filed in a town having a population of less than 6,000 residents.
11. However, in spite of the diligent efforts of the Class Representatives to advise of the claims process, a number of claims were not advanced prior to June 13, 2014.
12. The Additional Claims can be divided into three main categories:
- a. The June 2014 Claims. Approximately 102 claims as shown in Exhibit R-1 relating to economic loss and moral damages,
 - i. 32 of these claims are dated on or before the claims bar date but, for reasons that are unclear (possibly technical error and/or inadvertence on the part of the Class Representatives or their counsel or agents or mailing delays), were only received by the Monitor after the claims bar date, between June 14, 2014 and June 30, 2014;
 - ii. the balance of the claims are dated between June 18, 2014 and June 30, 2014, and, in keeping with the terms of the claims procedure order, the claims have not been filed with the Monitor.
 - b. The January 2015 Claims. Approximately 81 claims as shown in Exhibit R-2 advanced contemporaneously with MMA’s disclosure of the existence of a sizeable settlement fund.
 - c. The April 2015 Claims. Approximately 25 claims as shown in Exhibit R-2 in respect of moral damages (including certain evacuation claims) advanced after MMA’s presentation of potential distributions under the plan.
13. The creditors having Additional Claims are virtually all unsophisticated individuals without personal legal representation.

14. The Class Representatives have yet to conduct a structured interview of each of the persons seeking to advance the January 2015 Claims and the April 2015 Claims, but the reasons provided for the failure to advance the claim prior to the bar date have included:

- a. a lack of understanding about the Claims Process, the role of the Monitor and the possibility of a Plan of Arrangement with the participation of third parties;
- b. previous denial of the impact of the disaster and/or a desire not to think about it;
- c. the complexity and sophistication of the claims forms, which total more than 100 pages;
- d. criticisms of the process leveled by a lawyer involved in the U.S. proceedings, which tended to suggest that persons would be better served by not filing a claim:

Des proches de personnes décédées et leurs avocats ont l'impression qu'on tente de les acheter à rabais.

Hans Mercier, l'avocat qui représente une vingtaine de familles qui ont intenté des poursuites aux États-Unis est en désaccord complet avec la procédure qui oblige les gens à remplir avant le 13 juin un formulaire de réclamation. «On les met devant un choix impossible. Ils ne savent pas ce qu'ils vont avoir d'un côté, ils ne savent pas ce qu'ils vont avoir de l'autre, mais ils doivent choisir. C'est déplorable! Ce qu'ils veulent, d'abord et avant tout, c'est d'avoir justice et que les gens responsables paient. Si les gens vont mettre de l'argent pour s'acheter des quittances, parce qu'on l'a appelé comme cela dans le processus, on dit: "C'est une vente de quittances, on fait une vente de feu, on vend des quittances!" Comment ces gens vont avoir l'impression d'avoir eu justice? C'est là je pense que les tribunaux font erreur: ils pensent que les gens veulent de l'argent rapidement et ce n'est pas vrai»

Excerpted from “Recours canadien ou une poursuite au civil aux États-Unis? Plusieurs victimes déchirées”, April 23, 2014

<http://tvanouvelles.ca/lcn/judiciaire/archives/2014/04/20140423-202107.html>

- e. At the time of this Court’s order on April 4, 2014, there were minimal funds available for an eventual Plan of Arrangement, which led many to forego completing the claims forms.

15. The Plan of Arrangement contemplates distinct categories for distribution, such as “Wrongful Death Claims”, “Bodily Injury and Moral Damages Claims”, and “Property and Economic Damages Claims”, among others.

16. The vast majority of the Additional Claims fall within the category of “Moral Damages Claims”, with a few “Property and Economic Damages Claims”, and the structure of the Plan of Arrangement is such that there is no possibility of dilution of the claims of creditors having claims in the other categories of claimants, although the filing of the Additional Claims may dilute recoveries in the categories in which they are filed.
17. The Additional Claims appear to be meritorious in the sense that they satisfy the criteria for the receipt of a distribution under the proposed restructuring plan, but they remain subject to disallowance in the event that they do not.
18. The Plan of Arrangement has not yet been voted on by the creditors or approved by the Court, and so the Additional Claims can be factored into creditors’ decision as to whether or not to support the Plan.
19. The Additional Claims can be admitted only for the purposes of distribution and not for voting, so that the filing of the Additional Claims will not unduly delay the Plan of Arrangement.

FOR THESE REASONS, MAY IT PLEASE THIS HONOURABLE COURT TO:

GRANT the present Motion authorizing the filing of the June 2014 Claims with the Monitor;

PROVIDE DIRECTION in respect of the filing of the January 2015 Claims and the April 2015 Claims;

THE WHOLE without costs, unless contested.

AFFIDAVIT OF DANIEL LAROCHELLE

I, the undersigned, Daniel E. Larochelle, attorney, practicing my profession at 5031, boul. Des Veterans, Lac-Mégantic, Quebec, district of Mégantic, solemnly affirm:

1. I am one of the attorneys for the Petitioners in this matter and a resident of the Town of Lac-Mégantic. I am swearing this affidavit in support of a motion for an order authorizing the filing of certain addition claims by or on behalf of persons represented by the Petitioners (the “Additional Claims”).

2. On March 31, 2014, this Court rendered judgment granting a motion by Montreal, Maine & Atlantic Canada Co. (“MM&A” or “Debtor”) for an order approving a process to solicit claims and establishing a claims bar date of June 13, 2014, unless otherwise authorized by this Court (the “Claims Process”).
3. On April 4, 2014, the Honourable Mr. Justice Gaétan Dumas J.S.C. made the following orders:
 - a. an order requiring claims to be filed by June 13, 2014, unless otherwise authorized by this Court (the “Claims Process Order”).
 - b. an order appointing the Petitioners as representatives (the “Class Representatives”) in these proceedings of Class Members (as defined in the Representation Order) [the “Representation Order”].
 - c.
4. The Claims Process Order established June 13, 2014 as a claims bar date, but contemplates that this Court maintains jurisdiction over the process as a whole.
5. The Representation Order appointed the Class Representatives as representatives of the Class Members (as defined in Appendix “A” attached to the Representation Order) which, among other things, authorized the Class Representatives to:
 - a. assist Class Members and their representatives with the completion of their individual proof of claim;
 - b. deal, on behalf of the Class Members, with any government ministry, department or agency;
 - c. file such proof of claim (in addition to the representative claim on behalf of wrongful death victims) as may be permitted by further order of the Court; and,
 - d. seek advice and direction of the Court in respect of the discharge of their powers, responsibilities and duties
6. Accordingly, I undertook, along with the Class Representatives, extensive efforts to ensure that the public was aware of the Claims Process:

- a. A mailing was sent to 3,000 addresses in the city of Lac-Mégantic and surrounding villages regarding the Claims Process, including advice as to the claims bar date;
 - b. Four individuals were hired on a full-time basis to provide information and assistance to the local population in filling out the claims forms;
 - c. A website was established to provide information and an online version of the claims forms;
 - d. On April 22, 2014, I conducted a press conference alongside co-counsel to the Class Representatives, Me Joel Rochon and Me Jeff Orenstein attended by RDI, TVA, La Tribune, Journal MRG, Journal L'Echo de Frontenac, Radio-Canada and CTV Montreal, where we detailed the Claims Process;
 - e. The Claims Process was detailed on the Facebook page of the Lac-Mégantic class action;
 - f. Families of known deceased persons were notified;
 - g. Calls were made offering information and support to businesspersons, property owners, and commercial and residential tenants in the "zone rouge";
 - h. A meeting was held on May 15, 2014 with local businesspersons and the Monitor;
 - i. An informational advertisement was on local television between April 28 and June 13, 2014;
 - j. A mailing was sent to owners of residential and commercial properties in the "zone rouge" between May 8 and 15, 2014;
 - k. The claims process in general received extensive local and regional newspaper coverage.
7. The result of these efforts was extremely positive: approximately 3,800 claims were filed in a town having a population of approximately 6,000 residents.
 8. Despite the diligent efforts of the Class Representatives and myself to advise of the claims process, a number of creditors did not file claims prior to June 13, 2014.
 9. I have not yet had an opportunity yet to conduct a structured interview of each of the persons seeking to advance the January 2015 Claims and the April 2015

Claims. However, I am aware of the following reasons which were provided for the failure to advance the claim prior to the bar date include:

- a. a general lack of understanding about the Claims Process, the role of the Monitor and the possibility of a Plan of Arrangement with the participation of third parties;
- b. previous denial of the impact of the disaster and/or a desire not to think about it;
- c. the complexity and sophistication of the claims forms, which total more than 100 pages;
- d. criticisms of the process leveled by a lawyer involved in the U.S. proceedings, which tended to suggest that persons would be better served by not filing a claim;
- e. at the time of this Court's order on April 4, 2014, there were minimal funds available for an eventual Plan of Arrangement, which led many to forego completing the claims forms;

10. The Additional Claims can be divided into three main categories:

- a. The June 2014 Claims. Approximately 102 claims as shown in Exhibit R-1 relating to economic loss and moral damages,
 - i. 32 of these claims are dated on or before the claims bar date but were not delivered to the Monitor until after the claims bar date;
 - ii. the balance of the claims are dated between June 18, 2014 and June 30, 2014.
- b. The January 2015 Claims. Approximately 81 claims as shown in Exhibit R-2 advanced contemporaneously with MMA's disclosure of the existence of a sizeable settlement fund.
- c. The April 2015 Claims. Approximately 25 claims as shown in Exhibit R-2 in respect of moral damages (including certain evacuation claims) advanced after MMA's presentation of potential distributions under the plan.

11. The creditors having Additional Claims are virtually all unsophisticated individuals without personal legal representation.

12. The June 2014 Claims that were dated prior to the claims bar date were not filed with the Monitor due to inadvertence. I believe that the reason why these claims were not filed with the Monitor is due to the surge of claims going through my office. Unfortunately, these claims were misplaced and thus my office was unable to file them prior to the claims bar date.
13. In addition, in relation to paragraph 10 a. ii. above, my office was working with Quatorze Communication to assist with the filing of claims. I believe there was a technical error with the database that Quatorze Communication was using and thus some claims, although dated prior to the claims bar date were not filed before the Claims Bar Date. These claims were received by the Monitor after the claims bar date.
14. These claimants believed that their claims were filed in accordance with the Claims Process. It would only serve to unnecessarily prejudice the claimants who fall into this category if leave to file these claims was denied.
15. The balance of the June 2014 Claims are dated between June 18 and 30, 2014. Despite best efforts of Class Counsel and the Class Representatives to ensure that all claims were filed prior to the Claims Bar Date, the sheer volume of claims made this task impossible. These claims were not brought to my attention prior to June 13, 2014. However, once I was made aware of these claims, I made every effort to ensure these claims were completed, and prepared to be filed, within two weeks of the claims bar date.
16. I believe it would unfairly prejudice these claimants, who completed their claims immediately following the claims bar date, in good faith to disallow their claims at this stage.
17. Finally, there are extraordinary circumstances surrounding some of the January 2015 and April 2015 claims. Upon reviewing the claims that have been submitted to my office, I understand that some of these claims have been completed by first responders to the train derailment.
18. Through my discussions with these claimants, I understand that they did not file claims for moral damages, including traumatic stress prior to the bar date. This was, in part, because the traumatic stress injury had not yet presented itself and the fire fighters and other first responders attempted to deny the existence of these severe injuries.
19. I believe that these individuals, who were present in the Red Zone during the train derailment, and in fact, underwent significant hardship to do their jobs and rescue other individuals from the Red Zone, but whose serious Post Traumatic Stress Disorder symptoms are only now presenting themselves, should be entitled to file their claims now. These individuals are in need of clinical treatment to alleviate their severe traumatic stress, caused by their presence in the Red Zone during the tragedy.

20. These extraordinary claims will be accompanied by supporting evidence, by way of affidavit, explaining why each claim was not filed prior to the claims bar date.
21. The Plan of Arrangement contemplates distinct categories for distribution, such as “Wrongful Death Claims”, “Bodily Injury and Moral Damages Claims”, and “Property and Economic Damages Claims”, among others.
22. The vast majority of the Additional Claims fall within the category of “Moral Damages Claims”, with a few “Economic Loss Claims”, and the structure of the Plan of Arrangement is such that there is no possibility of dilution of the claims of creditors having claims in the other categories of claimants, although the filing of the Additional Claims may dilute recoveries in the categories in which they are filed.
23. The Additional Claims appear to be meritorious in the sense that they satisfy the criteria for the receipt of a distribution under the proposed restructuring plan, but they remain subject to disallowance in the event that they do not;
24. The Plan of Arrangement has not yet been voted on by the creditors or approved by the Court, and so the Additional Claims can be factored into creditors’ decision as to whether or not to support the Plan;
25. The Additional Claims can be admitted only for the purposes of distribution and not for voting, so that the filing of the Additional Claims will not unduly delay the Plan of Arrangement.
26. Creditors having the Additional Claims will suffer prejudice by virtue of losing any recourse against the third parties participating in the Plan of Arrangement.
27. I, along with Joel Rochon, have spoken to the Class Representatives, Guy Ouellet, Serge Jacques and Louis-Serges Parent. They have advised us to bring this motion to allow late claims to be filed in three categories:
 - a. The claims dated prior to the claims bar date but delivered to the Monitor subsequent to the claims bar date;
 - b. The claims dated between June 18 and June 30, 2014;
 - c. The January 2015 and April 2015 claims where there is evidence of extraordinary circumstances supported by affidavit explaining why the claims were not filed prior to the claims bar date.
28. I have taken cognizance of the attached Motion of the Class Representatives for an Order Authorizing Additional Claims (the “Motion”) and the facts alleged therein are true.
29. The Motion is made in good faith.

AND I HAVE SIGNED
